Compromised Account Defense

Stop bad actors exploiting compromised customer accounts

Compromised Account Defense

Compromised Account Defense stops bad actors exploiting legitimate users' accounts that have been compromised by an account takeover attack, minimizing the negative consequences of fraud. Account activity is continuously monitored for unusual behavior that deviates from typical usage by the legitimate owner. When a compromised account is detected, automated, customizable actions quickly intervene to neutralize and remediate according to the organization's requirements.

Compromised Account Defense is part of Account Protection, a suite of solutions on the Human Defense Platform that secure online accounts from a range of cyberthreats.
